MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Market/Powell Corridor Power Washing Project

Launched:
February 1st

The high volume traffic in a premier destination like Union Square demands more than our baseline once-weekly pressure washing. Thanks to a generous one-year grant from the Downtown Development Corporation, we are now equipped to enhance our current service and expand our geographic reach to heavily trafficked corridors, including the pedestrian routes connecting to Market and Powell Streets.

Within its first month, the program has already made measurable progress in improving corridor cleanliness.

Key Results (February 2026)

- 401 Block Fronts Completed – Storefronts and sidewalks pressure washed across the corridor.
- 10 Graffiti Removals – Graffiti addressed to maintain the district’s appearance.
- 18 Sanitation Hotspots Treated – Deep cleaning of recurring sanitation locations.

CLEANING STATISTICS

February showed a noticeable decrease in several service categories, including graffiti abatement, overflowing trashcans, and debris collection.

This reduction is largely attributed to additional support from partner agencies such as DPW, Urban Alchemy, SF Hot Team, Heart Team that assisted with cleaning efforts in the district during the NFL Super Bowl festivities. Partner agencies were strategically stationed throughout the district to support hot spots which helped reduce service demand and improve overall cleanliness conditions.

Hot Spots includes but not limited to; Hallidae Plaza, Union Square Plaza, Cable Car Turn Around, 4th and Market, 400 Post, Sutter-Stockton and more.

Monthly Report

Union Square – Legion Security Monthly Report - February 2026

Throughout the month of February, Legion officers maintained a strong proactive presence throughout the district, focusing on quality-of-life enforcement, environmental maintenance, and community engagement. February was an especially active month, as Super Bowl week drew thousands of visitors into the district, including numerous high-profile guests and celebrities, significantly increasing foot traffic and activity levels throughout the area. Despite the influx of visitors, officer's maintained order and ensured operations continued smoothly through consistent patrol, visibility, and engagement with the public.

Officers conducted 941 self-initiated activities, demonstrating continued initiative in addressing issues observed during patrols. In addition, the team responded to 685 dispatch calls, ensuring timely service and attention to community concerns during a period of elevated activity.

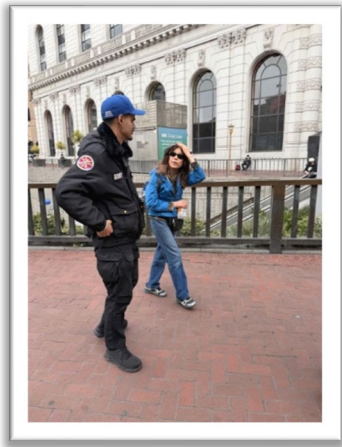

Quality-of-life enforcement remained a primary component of daily operations. Officers documented 1,002 sit/lie violations, with a focused effort on maintaining clear and accessible pedestrian corridors in high-traffic areas. Particular attention was given to Powell Street, Market Street, and Hallidie Plaza, ensuring these key locations remained clear and welcoming for the large number of visitors traveling through the district, especially during the increased activity surrounding Super Bowl week. Officers also addressed 45 instances of public intoxication, 51 narcotics use contacts, and 41 contacts involving mentally disturbed individuals, taking appropriate steps to de-escalate situations and coordinate assistance when necessary. Additional enforcement activity included 20 indecent exposure incidents, 6 noise violations, and 5 open container violations.

Officers also worked closely with the Block by Block Safety and Cleaning Team to maintain the cleanliness and presentation of the area. During the reporting period, officers submitted 81 requests for cleaning, 71 requests for graffiti removal, 48 requests for trash collection, and 10 reports of illegal dumping. These coordinated efforts helped ensure environmental concerns were addressed quickly and that the district remained clean and welcoming.

Property-related issues remained minimal during the month. Officers documented 2 incidents of property damage, 6 vandalism cases, and 2 threats, while there were no reported assaults, burglaries, thefts, or shoplifting incidents during this reporting period.

Community engagement remained a key focus for officers in the field. Personnel conducted 476 hospitality encounters, assisting visitors, providing directions, engaging with local businesses, and maintaining a visible and approachable presence throughout the district.

Overall, February's activity reflects the team's continued commitment to proactive patrol, quality-of-life enforcement, and community-oriented service. Even with the increased activity associated with Super Bowl week and the large number of visitors it brought into the district, officers maintained a stable environment. The absence of major violent or property crimes highlights the effectiveness of consistent officer presence and coordination with the Block by Block Safety and Cleaning Team in maintaining a safe, clean, and welcoming atmosphere in the district.

Reporting Officer: Ray Davie

Location: Flood Building – Market Street – San Francisco

Type of Incident: Welfare Check/Disturbance

Incident Narrative:

On February 8, 2026, at approximately 2200 hours, Officer A. Harrah and Officer Ray Davie self-initiated contact at the Flood Building on Market Street after observing a female involved in a verbal argument with a male subject outside the base area. The female appeared visibly distressed and was crying during the interaction.

Officers approached and verbally de-escalated the situation by separating both parties. During the contact, it was determined the female primarily spoke Spanish and required assistance communicating her concerns. Officer Davie escorted the female into base to ensure her safety and assist with translation.

The female declined police involvement and advised she did not want emergency services contacted. She requested transportation to 455 Eddy Street, and a Lyft ride was arranged for her. After ensuring the female had safe transportation, officers cleared the incident and resumed normal patrol operations without further issue.
